The Pacific Handcrafters Guild is a membership organization which promotes the uniqueness of Hawaii's fine craft artists, their work, and their cultural & economic contribution to the State of Hawaii. The Guild produces several educational and promotional art and fine craft events in Hawaii every year for this purpose.

Established in 1974 as Oahu Crafts to give Hawaii's artists and handcrafters opportunities to exhibit and sell their work, the Guild has expanded it's scope and distinguished itself by incorporating educational displays and demonstrations at its events. The Guild, known for its high standards of quality, maintains rigorous screening and an ongoing review of members' works. An open invitation to screen is offered to handcraft artists at the Guild's Spring, Summer and Fall Festivals.
